

Heston Blumenthal.
Three Michelin stars.
Two restaurants.
One breakdown.

If Heston Blumenthal had a breakdown everyone would hear about it. But what if it happened to Sam Green? Every year hundreds of people in our industry suffer a personal crisis. People you'll never hear about. Thankfully Hospitality Action is always there to pick up the pieces.

Help us, help Hospitality Action. Every time we sell cooking oil and collect the waste from our customers we make a donation to the industry's charity.

Hospitality Action

Hospitality Action is a trade charity offering a crucial lifeline to people of all ages, working and retired, from the hospitality industry. Whether you are a chef, chambermaid, school cook or bar staff, Hospitality Action will endeavour to support.

Sometimes all it takes is a very small change in circumstances. An illness such as cancer can lead to a drop in pay and a relationship breakdown, bereavement or redundancy can also put a strain on the household budget.

Each year Hospitality Action assists over 1,500 people spending in excess of £550,000 on:

- Preventing homelessness
- Keeping the heating on
- Stopping families going hungry
- Buying essential pieces of medical equipment
- Providing a contact scheme for people who have worked in the industry and are now retired and lonely

How can you help?

Hospitality Action receives no government funding and so they are dependent on individuals and corporate bodies from within the industry.

Olleco has partnered with Hospitality Action to help them support the customers we serve. This means, the more cooking oil we sell and collect from our customers, the more support we can give the charity.

You can also help individually, if you would like to become a member and regular supporter visit www.hospitalityaction.org.uk for more information.
